Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

War transcending anything in history, a crucial decision for the people to make at the polls next November, and a defense program for the United States of staggering magnitude, notwithstanding, our own little world marches forward steadily adding to the treasures of our daily life, making the living of all of us easier, and thereby making most of us happier.

For instance: work of vital importance on the highway between here and North San Juan is well under way. The Mae West road is undergoing a reduction in curves and the highway into and out of the South Yuba canyon is being made safer and easier on nerves and motor engines.

And again: six counties are uniting to put Highway No. 20 (the Tahoe-Ukiah) really upon the motorists's map. Not only that, but it is proposed to push the highway through to Albion, which stands at the mouth of the Navarro river on the Pacific. That means that thousands of mountain and valley families will be able to flee to the beach there during our hot summer days, pitch a tent, take a dip, learn what the "wild waves are saying," and gulp down a great big mouthful of ozone and salty sea breeze. That can be done now for those determined enough, but the last stretch of road from just south of Ukiah to the sea, compares unfavorably with our Mae West Downieville pike.

Six counties are joining forces to let the world know about Highway No. 20, and in this union there will be strength enough to get the last stretch from Ukiah to the sea improved. Even the State Highway Commission will listen to six counties. Besides that, this highway association of counties is rapidy developing plans for a monster motorcade and picnic, beginning at Ukiah and winding up at Tahoe. That will be something for big shot newspapers to write about as well as every weekly and daily along the line of march.

And of course, nearly everyone knows about the work that is rapdly nearing completion between here and Auburn. Some of the "death curces" are being eliminated by building three or four miles of brand new highway, which make part of the road both faster and safer. Incidentally, one of the immediate needs which is being urged in the way of cutting down cork-screw twists in Highway No. 20, is concerned with the winding and dangerous way a mile west of the Bitney Service station. And, something is being done about it.

It is about time that we folks here in the hills awakened to the fact that relatively we pay more taxes for good roads than city folks. Most of us have to use cars most of the time in our daily business, whereas the big city people only hop into their cars, generally speaking, for week end jaunts. We pay, individually more taxes, and we get the dirty end of the stick, when it comes to roads.

But while we are on the subject of the major advance, which this community is making toward better and happier living, here is a tip off on something that is brand new. Since old Armory Hall was sold. (Let us waste no time in laments in that regard. The firemen did a good stroke of business in selling it.) We have been without an adequate community meeting place. But that is to be remedied sooner or later. It is proposed to secure a lot for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and then go to the Board of Supervisors, and ask that the money which has been accumulating in taxes for this very thing, be expended for a building for the use of war veterans and the community. Truckee and Grass Valley now have such buildings, and the law provides that Nevada City can have one whenever it complies with the conditions laid down in the law. Steps are now being taken to comply.

We have recounted here four projects, either underway or geting underway, which when completed are going to affect us in

MINING GAINS DESPITE WAR

Miners Employed In County Total 2,526

Despite wars and rumors of wars, which are supposed to have an adverse effect on gold mining, the industry, upon which the livelihood of the Grass Valley-Nevada City district depends, shows advancement and continued prospects of advancement.

An exhaustive survey reveals there are 28 operating quartz properties and at least 14 placer operations, including dragline dredgers, in the county.

The total number of men employed, the preponderance of whom are quartz mine workers, is 2,526, with a monthly payroll of $378,900.

Fears for the future of the Nevada City-Grass Valley district appear to be unfounded as encouraging reports of operations and plans for the future come from nearly all mining officials.

Slight advancements in the number of men employed are noted in all the big mines of the area. Activity in the placer mining field increased.

Some of the hydraulic mines in the upper mountain regions have commenced preparations for operating as soon as the Upper Narrows Debris Dam is completed.

An official report from the bureau of mines in Washington reveals the Grass Valley-Nevada City district continues to be the leading mining area in California with the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation replacing the Empire-Star Mines, Ltd., as the top producer. The report is for the year 1939.

In 1939, 1,028 California lode mines and 749 placer mines treated 5,577,853 tons of ore and old tailings and 162,335,000 cubic yards of gravel, respectively, to recover 1,435,264 fine ounces of gold valued at $50,234,240. The silver production was 2,599,139 fine ounces, valued at $1,764,264. Copper produced was 8,360,00 pounds, valued at $869,440; lead 1,052,000 pounds, valued at $49,444 and zinc 12,000 pounds valued at $624.

Since 1928, when the value of California's gold output reached a low of $8,526,703, production has expanded almost six fold. The gain in 1939 over 1938 alone was more than half the total value of output in 1929. In quantity the 1939 gold output was greater than in any year since 1862 and in value at was greater than any year since 1856.

The mines bureau noted continued expansion of dragline dredge production, a placer gold recovery system introduced in the state in 1933 and in Nevada County but three years ago. In 1939, 109 draglines worked 142 properties and recovered $6,038,165 in gold from 31,618,000 cubic yards of gravel. Average recovery per cubic yard of gravel by dragline increased from 16.8 cents in 1938 to 19.1 cents in 1939.

NO EXODUS OF MINE WORKERS IS EXPECTED

The excellent wage scale of the Grass Valley-Nevada City mining district is one reason why the expected exodus of men from this district to copper camps, airplane factories and shipyards has not started.

During the last World War most of the able-bodied men deserted this district for higher wage jobs in the copper mine areas and shipyards. The present miners of this area have discovered they really cannot do much better as far as wages are concerned in the airplane factories, shipyards and copper mines.

The mine wage scale per day for this district is as follows:

Muckers, $5.24; Miners, $5.76; Pumpmen, $5.98; Blacksmiths, $6.48; Blacksmith helpers, $5.48; Machinests, $6.48; Timbermen, $5.98; Hoistmen, $6.48; Underhoistmen, $5.98; Electricians, $5.98 and Mechanics, $5.98.

DIME DANCE MAY DEFRAY COST OF DANCE PLATFORM

The chamber of commerce at a meeting here last night named Lambert Thomas as chairman of a committee to investigate the feasibility of holding a dime dance at the dance platform on the P. G. and E. lot to help defray the expense of building the platform. Thomas will name his own committee.

The chamber tendered a vote of thanks to the Fourth of July Committee for its handling of the Independence Day celebration here. Bert Foreman, president and H. F. Sofge, secretary, said a financial report will be made public as soon as all bills for the celebration have been turned in.

It was decided at the meeting to pay the Empire Advertising Company $16875 due on a contract entered into between the chamber and the advertising company.

ROTARY HEARS EXPERIENCES OF CHINESE PILOT

Pershing Lee Grass Valley Chinese who joined his country's air force to battle against the Japanese invasion of China shortly after his graduation from the Grass Valley High School several years ago, told of his experiences at the Rotary club meeting here today.

Lee returned to Grass Valley recently to fully recover from an injury, which, strangely, was not suffered in one of his numerous conflicts with the enemy. He was injured while walking on the street of a Chinese city with several fellow aviators by a Japanese dropped bomb.

Lee's story was heard with interest by the Rotarians. Bob Tamblyn was the meeting chairman.

NARROWS DAM EMPLOYS 225

Work is progressing rapidly on the Upper Narrows Debris Dam near Smartville. Indications lead construction officials to believe the project will be completed by February 1, 1941.

Two hundred and twenty five men are employed on the dam construction work. Most of the activity is confined to the pouring of cement for the river bed foundation. Reversing the usual procedure, the cement pouring started from the rim, working toward the bottom of the wall. This action was necessary because high water prevented the building of the foundation during the spring months.

E. M. Whipple is the superintendent in charge of the work. The Arundel-Dixon Construction Company has the contract to build the dam.

A machinery breakdown forced suspension of operations for several days at the Wyandotte Dredge on Greenhorn Creek in You Bet.

Operating News Shows Mining Is On Increase

Reports from the large mining operations in the Nevada City-Grass Valley district indicate considerable activity is underway both underground and on the surface.

Among the largest projects are the sinking of an auxiliary shaft 1,000 feet from the Empire Mine main shaft and the construction af a cyanide plant at the Lava Cap.

Individual reports from the mining operators are as follows:

MURCHIE-ZEIBRIGHT

Employment during the past month month has increased both at the Murchie Mine in Nevada City and Zeobright in Bear Valley, properties of the Empire-Star Mines, Ltd.

The adding of men at the Zeibright is a prelude to the resumption of operations at the huge Zeibright mill. Figures show there are 109 men at the mine. That total, how ever, is approximately 75 less than the number employed before the tailings dam was washed out by the flood during the latter part of February.

The driving of the long cross cut at the Murchie to connect with the North Banner Mine is continuing. Outside of trouble with excessive water, operations are normal with steady progress being made. The completion of the 6,000 foot cross cut is set for some time in September.

LAVA CAP

Considerable surface construction work resulted in a substantial increase in employment at the Lava Cap during the past month. The number of men employed at the Lava Cap properties, of which Otto Schiffner is vice president and general manager, is now 356, 226 at the Central Mine and 130 at the Banner.

Surface activities includes the construction of a new cyanide plant, which is expected to be completed by October.

The CIO strike at Selby smelter is forcing the storing of Lava Cap concentrates on railroad cars in Colfax. The strike may have a serious effect on normal production if it is one of long duration, it is reported.

IDAHO-MARYLAND NEW BRUNSWICK

Principal work at the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation properties, outside normal production and development, is the installing of new hoisting equipment at the New Brunswick.

Shaft sinking at the Brunswick is also continuing. The Brunswick almost equals the Idaho-Maryland Mine in the number of men employed.

Underground at the Idaho 285 men are at work while at the Brunswick there are 284. On the Idaho surface there are 150 men; at the Brunswick 50. The Idaho mill has 32 and the Brunswick mill 16. The office and private operating crew consists of 46 men, giving the total number employed by the corporation at 906.

The turnover at the Idaho-Maryland Mines, which holds true in the other mines of the Nevada City-Grass Valley district, is remaining stable, despite the demand for able-bodied men at the airplane factories, shipyards and copper mines, where wages are slightly higher. The Idaho-Maryland officials report a few men have left but the turnover has been no higher than in previous years.

EMPIRE-NORTH STAR PENNSYLVANIA

The incline shaft being sunk by the Empire-Star Mines, Ltd., approximately 1,000 feet from the Empire Mine shaft, is down 100 feet at present. The shaft will connect with old workings of the Empire.

WENDELL WILLKIE SUPPORTERS TO MEET WEDNES.

A group of citizens meeting last evening at the home of H. M. Leete made plans for a non-partisan organization to support Wendell Willkie's candidacy for the Presidency. Those present were Jack Widauf, Myers Mobley, Carol Coughlan, Robert Paine, Luther Marsh, Hal Draper, H. P. Davis, Frank Crampton, Ed. C. Uren and George Hallock.

It was the consensus of opinion that each community should have its own local organization of Willkie Non-Partisan Volunteers and that these in turn should take such steps as necessary to form county wide organizations and to affiliate with similar groups throughout the state, now in process of formation.

It was decided to call a meeting of all citizens who desire to support the candidacy of Wendell Willkie next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the National Hotel.

This meeting is open to all men and women, regardless of former party affiliations, who are opposed to the menace of fascism implicit in the third term nomination of Mr. Roosevelt, or who have grown alarmed at the fascist centralization of power in the Federal government which now masquerades as "liberalism."

SUES FOR RIGHT TO USE ROAD

George P. Still, Wolf district rancher, yesterday filed a suit in the superior court here seeking an injunction restraining Carl C. Wollam, Naoma W. Wren and a John Doe from blocking a road across their property which he has used since 1899.

Still charges in the suit the defendants on May 21st of this year destroyed bridges on the road, planted posts and blasted large holes in the roadway, rendering it impassable.

The plaintiff claims Silas N. Miller, predecessor in interest of the property of the defendants, gave the plaintiff in 1899 the privilege of passing over the land of the defendants by foot, animal or vehicle to the Wolf county road. The privilege, it is set forth in the suit, was given for valuable consideration.

In addition to the restraining order the plaintiff asks $1,000 damages.

NEW EQUIPMENT

Modern, up-to-date X-ray machine and additional surgical equipment has been received at the Nevada County Hospital.

The new equipment was badly needed at the hospital, according to Dr. W. W. Reed, county physician and R. W. Rodda, superintendent.

RECOVERING FROM INJURIES

Wayne McCall, Murchie miner, is recovering in the Miners Hospital from injuries received July 8 when a slab of rock fell from the ceiling of the drift and felled him.

HEN CARRIES INSIDE SETTING OF EGGS

CAMPTONVILLE, July 18. — Mrs. Rachael M. Labadie, proprietor of the Hotel Francis has a story for Robert Ripley. Saturday she had some chickens from her own flock killed for use in her culinary department. When cleaning one hen, eight average size fully developed shelled eggs were found inside of her. Thinking that people would not believe her story of such an unusual thing, Mrs. Labadie called in several outsiders to witness and verify the fact. It is unexplainable, and the first time that anyone has ever found that quantity of normal eggs in one hen at one time.

Are We Growing Old?

One fashionable argument in favor of increased government meddling in business has been the opinion advanced by some "liberal" economists that this country's business structure has "arrived at maturity." In other words, it is argued that business can no longer take care of its problems of idle capital and idle manpower unless government steps in and "helps."

The London Economist recently paused long enough in the midst of the problems of a nation at war to take a pot shot at this theory. As an impartial and learned observer, its words are worth listening to. Here's what the Economist says:

"If the United States, with its vast areas, its low debt, its inexhaustible natural resources, its rising population, is a mature economy, what is Great Britain? And yet our 'decadent' economy has contrived, during the decade when America was standing still to go ahead as fast as on the average of the great Victorian era of expansion.

"The American economy seems to have forgotten, for the moment, how to grow. But the probable explanation of this economic anaemia is to be found not in any arrival at 'maturity,' but rather in the existence of institutional obstructions to a free flow of capital."

Perhaps, as the Economist broadly hints, the reason that business and industry have not gone ahead very rapidly in recent years can be traced right back to the interference of those theorists in government and politics who believe that America is growing old and who pass misguided legislation and restrictions against industry on that basis!—Contributed.

Heavy Reading

Even if you go in for reading on a heavy scale, you probably won't have the Code of Federal Regulations, now being published by the Government Printing Office, on your bookshelves. When completed, it will include 23 volumes and 27,000 pages and we don't know how many words — which makes it considerably bigger than the Encyclopedia.

Yet much of the material contained in this lengthy compilation is of direct concern to you as a citizen. For it is going to contan a complete record of the things that various governmental agencies—none of them directly elected by the citizens of this country—have forbidden Americans to do.

The number of these agencies, and the extent to which their actions today affect the life of the ordinary man or woman in this land of ours, is truly staggering.

The Logan-Walter Bill, now in Congress, is an attempt to guarantee the individual fair judicial protection against the sometimes arbitrary actions of these dozens of quisa-legislative boards and commissions. The actual physical record of the pat rulings of these agencies—embodied in the Code of Federal Regulations—bears striking witness to the need for such protection!—Contributed.

Just Wonderin'

I wonder why we've ceased to call
A spade, a spade;
Is it because we're too refined,
Or just afraid?

I wonder at the facility with which we moderns fit new names to things and types of humanity, that existed even in the first false dawn of history.

Take the term fifth columnist for example; nothing new about that; there was a fifth columnist in the Garden of Eden, only then they called him "Serpent," and made a ghastly mistake by not taking prompt and drastic measures for his extermination. In due course of time the "serpent" became known as "the Father of Lies," a title entirely capable of appropriate application at the present time.

There were fifth columnists in the camp of Moses; during his temporary absence, they adopted a foreign ideology, typified by a golden calf and attempted by every means within their power to upset the decent and orderly state of affairs. They were called, "vipers," and dealt with according to their just deserts.

Yes indeed, the fifth columnist was a very ancient pest and somewhere along the length of his slimy trail, the word "traitor" came into general use. That was of course in those rugged days when a spade was known by its plain, unvarnished name. Traitors were labeled as such and their nefarious deeds were not alluded to as, "subversive," but by the more vigorous word, "traitorous".

I wonder just when we became too refined to call a spade a spade; perhaps it was at a time when a certain cultural school for girls adopted a set of rules in which nice young ladies were forbidden to "cross their benders," and were ordered to say, "I am about to retire," instead of the unrefined, "I'm going to bed."

I wonder if it would be well to begin speaking of traitors and traitorous activities and could we start calling an obnoxious and completely undesirable alien, just that, instead of alluding to him as "persona non grata." Should our daily speech deal with the slimy products of over seas totalitarianism, in a more convincing manner? I wonder.

I wonder what the next few hours will bring forth: even as I write these lines, bells are ringing, gongs are sounding, voices are vociferating, gavels are descending. Here's the Democratic convention with its tra-ra-boom-de-aye! What of F. D. R.? He can't ape the daisies much longer—if he won't tell, the next few hours will. By the time you read this paragraph—if you are kind enough to do so—you will know all and so will I. A dark horse? There ain't no such animal.

Uncle Silas says: "That F. D. R. person should be dubbed the modern sphinx; up to the very last hours before the convention begins, he keeps us asking, "is he ain't, or ain't he is?" —A. MERRIAM CONNER.

The Relief Administration Headquarters has been moved from Grass Valley to the Davis Building, 242 Commercial Street, in Nevada City.

Hours to be maintained at the local headquarters will be from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. on Tuesday and Thursdays. Chester W. Hatch, director for the relief administration with offices in Auburn, has charge of this area.

The depot for commodities will still be maintained for the county at 465 South Auburn Street in Grass Valley, where the relief cases outnumber the ones in Nevada City 3 to 1.

The relief investigator here reports there are 125 active relief cases in the county at the present time, terming this time of the year as "the slack season."

PEACE OFFICERS TO HEAR HUNTER OF BIG GAME

William Foster, big game hunter, will speak and show pictures of game hunting in Canada at the Friday July 26 meeting of the Sierra-Nevada Peace Officers Association. The dinner meeting will be held at 7 o'clock in the New York Hotel and will be a ladies night session.

Foster will describe the perils and adventures of big game hunting and the showing of the motion pictures will graphically illustrate the talk.

Walter Carlson, president of the local Rotary club, and Frederick Garrison, secretary, will attend the District 105 Rotary convention in Susanville on August 5th and 6th.

Garrison reports the average attendance at the Rotary meetings here during the past year has been 84.17 per cent. The Grass Valley average is 92.55.

MINE LEAGUE TO PICNIC AUG. 14

Olney Donnelly president of the Nevada County Mine Workers Protective League, Tom Terrill and Fred Carter, league officials, were in Nevada City Tuesday in the interests of the independent labor union's picnic, which will be held at Lake Olympia on August 14th.

All the mines in the Nevada City-Grass Valley district which recognize the league as bargaining agency will be shut down for the annual picnic, which is a benefit for the widows and orphans fund of the organization.

our living, our business, and in our general welfare. These several improvements are not maturing like plums on a tree. Something generated them, set them going, and is constantly pushing them toward consummation. And what is it? Well you may have guessed. It was and is the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce. Generally speaking we are rather abstemious in presenting bouquets, but we are handing one now to the Chamber of Commerce, H. F. (Si) Sofge, secretary, and Bert Foreman, president, and the live board of directors which backs them up. The dues that something over a hundred members pay into this institution are really like bread on the waters, coming back to them and the entire community, many fold. If there is anybody who would like to put their shoulder to the weel that is now visibly turning, all they have to do is to join the chamber. It is money well spent.

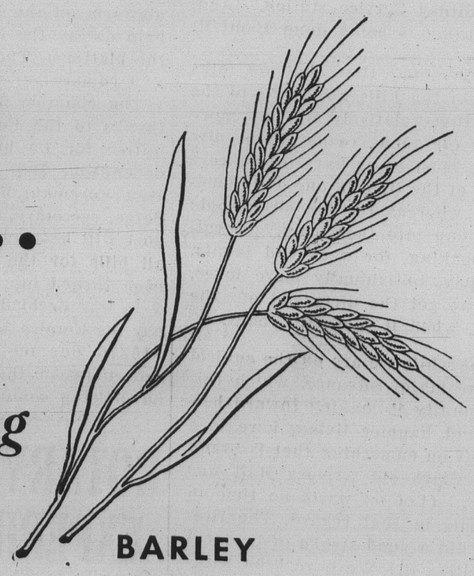
WHAT IS MALT?..

and how is it used in making beer and ale?



Answer: Brewers' malt is barley that has had its starches modified. The barley is first permitted to "sprout" by the addition of moisture. At the right instant, the growth is checked by heat and the sprouts are removed.

What remains is malt . . . the essential base of all good beer and ale.

Every step in the brewing of good beer and ale has been taught by centuries of experience. Today, amazingly expert brewers — using only the purest ingredients — make beer and ale the mild, tasty, wholesome beverages that they are.

Now the brewing industry is taking action to keep the retailing of beer as wholesome as beer itself. A plan to eliminate abuses is already in effect in a number of states. It is being extended. Ask us for an interesting free booklet.

NEV. COUNTY FARMERS OWE LAND BANK $275,200

Farmers in Nevada County will save about $4,128 a year as a result of legislation just enacted by Congress affecting interest rates on Federal land bank and Land Bank Commissioner loans.

The temporary rate of 3½ per cent on first mortgage land bank loans will be continued for two years ending June 30, 1942. During this period the interest rate on first and second Land Bank Commissioner loans will be reduced from 4 to 3½ per cent. Land bank and Commissioner loans were originally written at contract rates averaging about 5 per cent.

At present about 71 Nevada County farmers have land bank and Commissioner loans outstanding aggregating $275,20. The difference between the contract rate and the temporary rate thus effects a substantial saving for farmers.

FOREST SERVICE TO SPEND $30,000 ON OLD ROAD

CAMPTONVILLE, July 18—The local Forest Service has announced that their department contemplates spending about $30,000on the old road between this place and Mountain House, the work to start the latter part of this month and run for about four months. They expect to maintain a road camp in the vicinity of Millers Ranch.

At one time, before the construction of Highway 49, the Mountain House road was the main traveled thoroughfare, all early day stages and teams going that way. After the highway was built this road was considerably neglected and a few years ago Sierra County traded it to the Forest Service for a road in the northern part of the county and since then the Forest Service has been taking care of it.

BULL IS MENACE TO YOUNGSTERS

CAMPTONVILLE July 18.—The court of Judge A. M. Cleveland was largely occupied by bull last week, when a controversy over a bull running at large came to a head. The animal belongs to Jack McLain who owns the Burris Ranch, and the complaint had been lodged by Mr. and Mrs. William Ericson who live at the Sommers Ranch. The latter declared that the bull created a hazard to their children in coming to school and the school authorities had complained that keeping the children out of school was detrimental to the children and the school attendance.

After much discussion Mr.McLain agreed to keep the bull fenced up at his ranch, which arrangement would be agreeable to the Ericsons. The court stressed the fact that there was no fence law in this county and the owner of any animal was liable for any damages done by said animal at large, and further that if the bull was a danger to the lives of school children or anyone else, it would have to be disposed of.

GOLDEN CENTER

The mill at the Scotia Mine of the Golden Center Mining Company of Grass Valley is running to its capacity of 150 tons per day with approximately 115 men employed. Reports from the Golden Center are that mining operations are proceeding normally. Considerable development work is being done Wallace Butler is the general manager and W. H. Carey is the superintendent.

ANCHOE-ERIE

Miners at the Anchoe-Erie near Graniteville, operated by Gus Helback of Grass Valley and associates, are making nine feet a day progress in No. 4 tunnel. Ten men are employed at the mine. Bob Harris is superintendent during the absence of Fred Anderson, who is ill.

Plans call for a 2200 foot crosscut to contact the Anchoe vein. More than 650 feet of the crosscut have been driven.

RUBY DEVELOPMENT

Development of the main section of the Bald Mountain channel through an 8,000 foot bedrock tunnel is progressing at the Ruby Mine in Sierra County, operated by C. L. Best, former tractor company official of San Leandro. The extensive developments program conducted by the management has disclosed six channels and five quertz ledges.

Mined extensively by pioneer operators, the Bald Mountain was one of the richest channels worked in California, some of its richest sections being credited with yielding as high as $1,000 per lineal foot. L. L. Huelsdonk, formerly of Grass Valley is superintendent of the Ruby property.

VANDALS DAMAGE MINE

The Kentucky Ridge Mine and the Greely Blackman property in the Newtown district were damaged by vandals last week.

Luke W. Williams, in charge of the work at the Greely-Blackman, said considerable damage was done to machinery by the throwing and rolling of rocks from hilltops onto the mines below. The vandalism has been reported to the authorities for investigation.

PENNSYLVANIA ONE OF OLDEST MINES IN CALIF.

The Pennsylvania Mine in Browns Valley, Yuba County, a property of the Empire-Star Mines, Ltd., which operates a group of five mines in Nevada County, is one of the oldest quartz mines in California.

The Pennsylvania, which has a good production record, was discovered in the early '50's, shortly after George Knight stubbed his toe on a quartz ledge in Grass Valley, ushering in the beginning of the lode mining industry.

R-J. Hendricks, general manager of the Murchie Mine in Nevada City and the Zeibright Mine in Bear Valley, is also general manager of the Pennsylvania. Ellsworth Bennett of Nevada City is the superintendent of the Pennsylvania.

Since the Empire-Star Mines took over the Pennsylvania more than five years ago, considerable surface improvements have been made as well as underground work accomplished.

Surface buildings include a seventy-five ton mill, compressor room, hoist house, store room, office the change room and bunk house.

The gallows frame and ore bins at the Pennsylvania are among the most unusual in the country. The company purchased two oil tanks from a railroad concern for use as the headframe and ore bins. The oil tanks, besides serving the purpose adequately, provide an inexpensive and sturdy piece of equipment.

The work at the Pennsylvania is confined to development. Ore mined in the process of development work is treated in the mill. The concentrates are trucked to the Empire Mine in Grass Valley. The shaft at the Pennsylvania is 2,000 feet deep. Fifty five men are employed at the mine.

WAR MINERALS OF COUNTY MAY BE DEVELOPED

A move is under way here to interest the United States Government in reported substantial deposits in Nevada County of necessary war materials.

Richard Haddy announces an effort will be made to secure federal appropriations for a survey of this district to determine the extent of the deposits of manganese and of chrome.

Haddy received from Congressman Harry L. Englebright copies of an act of congress, approved in June, which appropriates for 1940, 1941, 1942 and 1943 the sum of $500,000 for the development of this county's war material resources.

Efforts will be made, according to Haddy, to have some of the money appropriated for use in the Nevada County district.

"There are quite a number of war material minerals in this locality," said Haddy, "of which some are known and the formations in the district indicate the possibility of many more deposits which could be found with systematic research.

"A United States Geological Survey bulletin contains information on scheelite being found in commercially value quantities in Grass Valley. Scheelite is a very valuable tungsten mineral used to harden steel."

Other mineral deposits in the county are reported to be manganese, chrome and quartz crystals. The quartz crystals of this district are rated on a par with the crystals that are imported.

The gravel beds of this area are reported to have every possibility of containing chrome and manganese in their black sands. It is stated that there are known deposits of chrome and other necessary war minerals in the zone of the large gravel channels.

Ralph Youtz, superintendent of the Plumbago Mine, was in Nevada City yesterday on business.

THREE KINGS

Ted LeMaire, general manager of the Three Kings Mine near Alleghany, announced here good ore has been struck on the No. 4 raise at the mine, approximately 2,000 feet in the tunnel. Work is being done to determine the extent of the ore body.

Frank Campbell, formerly of Nevada City, is foreman at the Three Kings, originally known as the Irelan Mine. LeMaire has offices in the Ott Building here.

Cooley [illegible] Angeles, owner of the Golden Center Mines in Grass Valley, paid a visit to Grass Valley last week in the interests of his mining properties.

WIFE CHARGES GOLD CHANGES LOVE TO HATE

Gold, the pursuit of which led a young Nevada City couple to desert the comfort of civilization for the wilds, caused the two, their love assertedly changed to hate, to air their differences in the municipal court in San Francisco.

Mrs. Luthena Lashbaugh had charged her husband, J. Hampton Lashbaugh, with threats to kill her unless she turned over to him her interest in the Seven Aces Mine in Sierra County, a mine which reportedly they staked out together and developed.

Mrs. Lashbaugh told Judge Theresa Meikle that quite a few years ago she and her husband went into the mountains and established themselves on a mining claim. For a time, she related, they barely managed to survive.

"We finally made a rich strike, your honor, and now I am in terror of my life.

"My husband's love for me turned to a greedy lust for the gold. I fled from the mine last September when he threatened to kill me. Now—well, he has followed me here and wants me to turn over my interest in the claim to him."

Lashbaugh, who was taken into custody in Nevada City and set free on cash bail pending the hearing denied the charge.

The judge dismissed the case after admonishing Lashbaugh to "leave your wife alone."

GOES TO NEVADA

Jack Cowley, formerly superintendent of the Idaho-Maryland and New Brunswick Mines, left Grass Valley this week for Winnemucca, Nev., where he will assume the position as superintendent of the West Coast Mines, Inc., properties.

Cowley put in his last shift as superintendent of the New Brunswick on Saturday. He was presented with a valuable watch by his men, who regretted to see him leave. Fred Denton succeeds Cowley as the Brunswick superintendent.

LEASERS ON KENNEBEC

Leasors are reported to be at work on the Kennebec Consolidated mining ground in the Lake City district. The property is owned by the Herbert and Henry Paine of the Ridge district and Lon Paine of Nevada City. The workings on the property include several shafts and tunnels. It is a gravel property.

George Hallock, manager of the 1* to 1 Extension Mine at Alleghany and president of the California Hydraulic Miners, was in Nevada City on business today.

He is now seeking reelection at the coming August primaries. Thurman has been engaged in newspaper work for the past 32 years, twenty of which he has published the Colfax Record in Placer County. He is familiarly known by the newspaper nickname of "Scoop."

Attorneys lead in the makeup of the membership of the state assembly there being 30 attorneys in the lower house according to the California Legislative handbook. Nearly forty per cent of the total membership of eighty in the lower house are lawyers.

Next in membership are farmers and fruit growers there being 14 agriculturists in the assembly.

Approximately twenty other professional and business classifications are listed in the membership including one undertaker, one preacher, one druggist, a chamber of commerce secretary, several real estate and insurance men and a few engineers.

HIGHWAY RESOLUTION RECEIVES ENDORSEMENT

An encouraging report on the Pioneer Park summer recreation program was given yesterday to the Coordinating Council, which is sponsoring the program, by Director Ed Frantz. The council meeting was presided over by Mrs. E. T. Bonner, president.

The council endorsed a resolution urging the improving of the state highway between Nevada City and Auburn. Similar resolutions were passed by other local civic organizations.

Pat Jackson announced the local chapter of the Red Cross has donated a first aid kit to the recreation department for use at Pioneer Park.

THURMAN SUPPORTED BILL ALLOWING RANCHERS RIGHT TO SLAUGHTER OWN CALVES

Local Assemblyman Supported Farm Bureau Program As Well As Other Farm Legislation of Interest to Sixth Assembly District.

Assemblyman Allen G. Thurman, representing Nevada County in the state assembly, in a statement issued this week to the press of the district says that he is on record favoring legislation which will permit ranchers and people engaged in the dairy business or the raising of cattle to be permitted to slaughter and to sell calves produced by them.

His statement follows:

"I voted for and supported on the floor of the assembly the only bill which passed the lower house at the 1939 session of the legislature which would have permitted ranchers and people engaged in the dairy business and cattle raising to slaughter and sell calves produced by them.

"This bill A. B. 639 by Assemblyman Schwallish, received my full support. It was passed by the assembly on May 25th, 1939, by a vote of 41 to 29. I am on record on page 2430 of the Assembly Daily Journal as voting in favor of this bill.

"Following its passage a reconsideration was granted which I opposed with a 'no' vote on May 29th, my vote being recorded on page 2557 of the Daily Journal.

"The bill was again passed on May 30th by a vote of 42 to 27 and my vote in favor of the bill will be found recorded on page 2574 of the Assembly Daily Journal for that date.

"One of my campaign promises in 1938 was that if elected I would support such legislation. This I did to the fullest extent and my support is a matter of record.

"The bill referred to, which passed the assembly twice, was later unfortunately killed in a senate committee.

"I can assure all cattle men, ranchers and dairymen that if I am reelected to the office I now hold, I shall introduce at the next session of the legislature a bill similar to the one which I supported at the last session.

"This bill, which I have gone into some length to discuss, had the support of the Farm Bureaus of my district and I wish to state at this time that I supported the Farm Bureau's legislative program practically 100 per cent in the last regular session in addition to supporting other farm legislation of particular interest to the people of my district.

"Under date of September 6, 1939, Ray B. Wiser, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, and Von T. Ellsworth, legislative representative of the organization wrote me, in part, as follows:

"Dear Mr. Thurman:

"'I want to express my appreciation for the many favors you have shown me and the people I represent, and to commend you for the service which you have rendered our state.

"'In behalf of the California Farm Bureau Federation I thank you for the support you have given us.'

"Again under date of May 29, 1940, Mr. Von T. Ellsworth wrote the following:

"'Dear Mr. Thurman:

"'I commend you particularly for the prominent part which you played as a member of the so-called 'economy bloc. The action taken will not only save millions of dollars for the taxpayers, but will aid materially in maintaining the self-respect of those who are economically depressed.'"

GAME WARDEN ISSUES APPEAL TO MOTORISTS REGARDING DEER TOLL

An appeal to motorists to be careful of deer on the highways was made today by Game Warden Earl Hiscox, who said recently there has been an average of three and four deer a week killed on the roads in this vicinity.

Hiscox aid the exercising of a little care on the part of motorists is all that is necessary to stop the practically wholesale slaughter of deer by automobiles.

The game warden stated most of the deer recently killed by automobiles have been does and the death of each one probably means the death of at least one fawn because they are easy prey to the elements and coyotes when they lose their mother.

Hiscox stated he is being conservative when he estimates there are approximately 100 deer a year killed in Nevada County by automobiles.
